About SDPI

SDPI was founded in August 1992 on the recommendation of the Pakistan National Conservation Strategy (NCS), also called Pakistan's Agenda 21. The NCS placed Pakistan's socio-economic development within the context of a national environmental plan. This highly acclaimed document, approved by the Federal Cabinet in March 1992, outlined the need for an independent non-profit organization to serve as a source of expertise for policy analysis and development, policy intervention, and policy and program advisory services. SDPI is registered under the Societies Registration Act, XXI of 1860.2

Mission

To catalyse the transition towards sustainable development, defined as the enhancement of peace, social justice and well-being, within and across generations.

Vision

To be a center of excellence on sustainable development policy research, capacity development and advocacy in Pakistan.

About the Newsletter

The Sustainable Development Policy Institute (SDPI) publishes a bi-monthly e-newsletter through its China Study Centre to keep researchers, policymakers, and stakeholders informed about emerging developments relating to China, regional cooperation, connectivity, trade, diplomacy, and broader geopolitical and economic trends.

The newsletter is a compilation of relevant reference material, including news reports, analytical commentaries, and Op-Eds published in leading national and international media outlets.

About the China Study Centre

As China's global role continues to expand across trade, technology, finance, climate governance, connectivity, and development cooperation, understanding the evolving dynamics of China and Pakistan-China relations has become increasingly important for informed policymaking and strategic engagement.

In this context, the China Study Centre at the Sustainable Development Policy Institute (SDPI) serves as a platform for research, policy dialogue, and knowledge exchange on issues of regional and global significance.

Established in 2018, the Centre aims to bridge the research-policy gap by generating evidence-based analysis and fostering informed discourse on emerging geopolitical, economic, technological, and developmental trends linked to China and the broader region. Particular emphasis is placed on the opportunities and challenges arising from the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC), regional connectivity initiatives, trade and investment cooperation, climate action, innovation ecosystems, and people-to-people exchanges.

The Centre works closely with universities, government institutions, think tanks, businesses, media, and civil society organisations to promote collaborative research, policy engagement, capacity building, and knowledge sharing. By drawing lessons from China's development experience and policy evolution, the Centre seeks to contribute to sustainable economic transformation, regional cooperation, and evidence-informed decision-making in Pakistan.

Through its publications, dialogues, and analytical work, the China Study Centre aspires to strengthen understanding of China's changing role in the global order and support constructive engagement that advances sustainable development, economic resilience, and regional stability.

China and America Trade Conflict

Strongmen summit
Source: Huma Yusuf, Dawn, Islamabad , 2026-05-11
THIS week, the acronym FOMO (fear of missing out) may find itself elevated to the esoteric jargon of foreign policy. This is because there are few better ways to describe what Pakistan's leaders must be feeling as their most strategic allies meet in Beijing without their presence. It will be sobering to realise how little the much-touted US-China meet planned for later this week involves the..... more >>

US-Iran conflict likely to dominate strategic calculations during Trump's China visit
Source: Anwar Iqbal, Dawn, Islamabad , 2026-05-12
WASHINGTON: US President Donald Trump arrives in China on Wednesday for a three-day state visit that is expected to mainly focus on trade and economic ties. But, the US-Iran conflict is likely to dominate the strategic calculations of both Washington and Beijing. The May 13–15 visit — the first by a sitting US president to China in nearly nine years — comes at a moment when th..... more >>

Trump in Beijing
Source: Editorial, Dawn, Islamabad , 2026-05-14
DONALD Trump's arrival in Beijing marks the first China visit by a sitting US president in almost a decade. That alone makes the summit significant. But the timing has given it even greater weight. Originally planned for April but delayed because of the US-Israeli war on Iran, the talks now unfold under the shadow of conflict, economic strain and renewed tariff tensions, alongside growing de..... more >>

Beijing's red lines
Source: Editorial, Dawn, Islamabad , 2026-05-17
THE Beijing summit between US President Donald Trump and his Chinese counterpart Xi Jinping was never likely to produce a grand result. Too much mistrust has accumulated, and the disputes dividing Washington and Beijing now extend far beyond tariffs. Yet the meeting still mattered because both sides met with an interest in preventing relations from becoming even more volatile at a moment of wid..... more >>

Trump's sojourn heavy on pomp, short on deals
Source: Agencies, Dawn, Islamabad , 2026-05-16
BEIJING: US President Donald Trump left China on Friday with no major breakthroughs on trade or tangible help from Beijing to end the Iran war, despite two days spent heaping praise on his host, Xi Jinping. Trump's visit to America's main strategic and economic rival, the first by a US president since his last trip in 2017, aimed for tangible results to lift his sagging approval ..... more >>

Trump gets a reality check in Beijing
Source: Imtiaz Gul, The Express Tribune, Islamabad , 2026-05-16
Amid diplomatic niceties and unmistakable Chinese cultural symbolism, President Xi Jinping gave his usually freewheeling guest, President Donald Trump, sobering lessons in diplomacy, national resolve, and - above all - good manners. Once in Beijing, Trump confronted two stark realities. Xi not only issued a blunt warning on Taiwan - describing the issue as "irreconcilable like water and fi..... more >>

President Donald Trump got a reality check during his visit to China as he relied on the softies of economic interaction. The leader of the world's sole superpower was categorically told by his Chinese counterpart, Xi Jinping, that it's time to go beyond the rhetoric of warfare in the Middle East. The host also made it clear that the theory of Thucydides Trap – i.e. a rising power th..... more >>

Trump-Xi summit ends but no breakthrough on Iran, Taiwan

ABOARD AIR FORCE ONE/NEW DELHI - US President Donald Trump said his patience with Iran was running out and that Chinese President Xi Jinping had agreed that Tehran must reopen the Strait of Hormuz, but China gave no indication it would weigh in. As he flew back from Beijing on Friday after two days of talks with Xi, Trump said he was considering whether to lift US sanctions on Chinese oil compani..... more >>

Trump returns from China with stability and a stalemate
Source: Michael Martina, David Brunnstrom, David Lawder and Mei Mei Chu, Business Recorder, Islamabad , 2026-05-17
President Donald Trump's visit to Beijing this week may have produced modest results by the standards of US-China summits but it highlighted a clear benefit for China: after the extremes of last year's trade war, the countries have reverted to their familiar economic and strategic standoff. Two days of talks between Trump and Chinese leader Xi Jinping underscored that even after T..... more >>

The Beijing Summit

History rarely announces itself in real time. When President Richard Nixon landed in Beijing in 1972 to meet Mao Zedong, the world understood immediately that something foundational had shifted. The United States was opening relations with a revolutionary China it had spent decades isolating. Seven years later, Deng Xiaoping toured America in a cowboy hat, symbolising a China eager to integrate in..... more >>

President Trump's visit to China: cooperation is the only way
Source: Shakeel Ahmad Ramay, The News, International , 2026-05-11
President Trump's expected visit to China has sparked discussion among policymakers and experts. US President Donald Trump's two-day visit to China came at a defining moment in global geopolitics. The international system is simultaneously confronting the consequences of the US-Iran war, disruptions in global energy markets, rising tensions in the Indo-Pacific and intensifying strategic competition between Washington and Beijing. Against this backdrop, the summit between Trump and Pres..... more >>

Takeaways from the Xi-Trump Summit
Source: Hussain H Zaidi, The News, International , 2026-05-20
It was a visit remarkably high in ceremony and optics. Chinese President Xi Jinping walked some 100 steps down his office to welcome his American counterpart, Donald Trump. Paramount leaders in China seldom, if ever, display such magnanimity toward their guests. Not only that, but Trump was also taken by Xi in person to his official residence, which, as the latter himself told his guest, was an &..... more >>
