An Interactive Training Workshop on

Monitoring & Evaluation of Projects

24-25 April 2019 | SDPI, Islamabad.
Rs. 15,000 + 16% G.S.T per person investment.

Introduction
Planning, Monitoring and Evaluation are the basic tools used to assess progress in project management. By missing any of the components, desired results of a project cannot be successfully achieved. To become a successful manager, one has to have command over all these components. Project M&E is one of the top range courses at SDPI, which may open up new vistas of project management for development practitioners and professionals.

Who Should Attend?
The training workshop is designed for middle and senior level project managers, monitors, evaluators and team leaders, who are directly or indirectly involved in monitoring and/or evaluating projects. The training will be useful for participants from industry, public sector, development organizations, academia, international funding agencies, and consultants.
