Editor Note:

Launched in August 2018, China Study Centre is a broader initiative of Sustainable Development Policy Institute (SDPI) to bridge the research-policy gap on the issues of global relevance such as trade, technologies, climate change, tourism, business, finance and Pakistan-China relations. The Centre strives to foster research, knowledge and expertise on China, profoundly relevant to our engagement with China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC).

With a large network of universities, government bodies, business and civil society organizations, the Centre aims to promote collaborations, capacity building and technology transfer based on lessons learnt and experiences of China, attributed to their scientific knowledge and policy instruments. This requires a deep insight into Chinese history, culture, and socio-economic contexts. Such an approach is essential to catalyze the active engagement with China to address the economic and development challenges towards achieving sustainable development.

ISLAMABAD: Chinese Ambassador to Pakistan Yao Jing has said that that the coronavirus catastrophe would not stop the economic cooperation between China and Pakistan. “We are thankful to the Pakistani government and people for showing solidarity in our difficult time which provide us strength and more confidence”, he said while addressing a special seminar titled “Six Years of Bel.....

Will coronavirus affect CPEC and Pak economy?

ISLAMABAD: Can coronavirus outbreak create havoc in Pakistan and hamper the ongoing progress on the China Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC) projects? The question has put Pakistani authorities in a catch-22 situation. Thousands of Chinese nationals working on CPEC projects left for China last month to celebrate the New Year and might not be returning anytime soon without proper screening. .....
Islamabad: Speaker of the National Assembly Asad Qaiser on Thursday said the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor was the backbone of Pakistani economy amid critical economic challenges of the country. Terming CPEC a fortune change of the country, Asad Qaiser said through knowledge sharing and technology transfer, we are hopeful that Pakistan would soon get out of the current economic quagmire.....

CPEC: The ball is in Pakistan’s court
Source: Afshan Subohi, Dawn, 2020-02-10

China asserts that it is not wavering from its commitment to assist Pakistan in the second, people-centric phase of the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC). Despite being embroiled in multiple problems — the virus epidemic, growth moderation and trade spat with the United States — the Asian dragon is all set to commit $1 billion in the current calendar year to kick-start the next .....

CPEC, the US, and ‘Narrative Economics’
Source: Irfan Shahzad Talavi, Business Recorder, Islamabad, 2020-02-14

Alice Wells did it again; demonize BRI and CPEC. Her unwelcome, pointed and repetitive remarks were responded to, both by Chinese and Pakistani sides. The point – the core of it – however, remains unexplained, largely. The question is why did the senior American diplomat have to repeat in her January 2020 visit to Islamabad, at an Islamabad think-tank, what she had already uttered two m.....

CPEC: the way forward

Several studies are now available that analyse the impacts of Belt and Road Initiative and China-Pakistan Economic Corridor projects, but little efforts are made to dissect those studies. Recently, the World Bank has produced a series of reports to analyse the potential impacts of Belt & Route Initiative (BRI), including the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC). Reports, Common Transport Inf.....

CPEC and recycling zones

Waste or scrap is both an asset and a liability. If one can retrieve good materials economically and responsibly (environmentally speaking), it can create economic opportunity, promote industrialization and generate employment. However, if a country cannot process waste properly and encourages waste imports based upon low-paid workers, that waste may be a liability. China has developed out.....

The right person

The China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC) is a landmark project in the development history of Pakistan. On July 5, 2013 during PM Nawaz Sharif’s visit to China immediately after assuming office, an MOU was signed between Pakistan and China to start work on the project. Till this point, CPEC was a vision shared between the Chinese and Pakistani leadership to start a new chapter in t.....
PTI govt excludes PSM from CPEC framework
Source: Shahbaz Rana, The Express Tribune, Islamabad , 2020-02-18

ISLAMABAD: The government has decided not to include Pakistan Steel Mills (PSM) in the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC) framework, reversing its earlier decision to offer the country’s largest industrial unit, which has remained closed for almost five years, exclusively to Chinese investors. The decision to sell PSM through international competitive bidding was taken at the prim.....

Special Economic Zones in Pakistan: Learning from China

Industrial development is an instrumental for a long run sustainable economic growth of a country subject to feasible industrial policies. For instance establishing business parks, export promotion zones, industrial clusters, and special economic zones (SEZs)would increase economic growth and development. SEZs are also known as investment promotion zones, industrial estates, free trade zones and e.....

CPEC and the state of the economy

There are loud noises over the perceived mismanagement of the economy by the present government. In this environment, it is worthwhile to review the relevant literature. Economist Shahid Javed Burki’s Institute (the Burki Institute of Public Policy) has recently launched its 12th annual report on ‘The State of Economy’. It has some chapters written by Burki himself and ot.....
Pakistan military’s constructive role in Balochistan
Source: S M Hali, Daily Times, 2020-02-29

Balochistanis Pakistan’s largest province as well as its most backward. Subsequent governments have ignored Balochistan at their own peril. The province is rich in minerals, has a 771 kilometers long coastline and lies at the mouth of the Strait of Hormuz. Its strategic location and being the shortest route from seaports to Central Asia, has placed the otherwise desolate region in the scope.....

A truce in US-China trade war

"Nobody wants a trade war", and so the trade conflict between the world’s two largest economies, the United States of America and the People’s Republic of China, just reached a truce almost after two years. On 22 March 2018, US President Donald Trump directed the United States trade representative (USTR) to start investigating China’s ‘unfair’ trade practice.....
